Getariako Txakolina

DENOMINACION DE ORIGEN

An iconic white wine born on the Basque coast

Agerre txakoli is born in the Getaria hills, overlooking the Bay of Biscay, which gives our wine its unique personality.

Characteristics of our txakoli

Agerre txakoli is ideal for snacks and appetisers as well as all kinds of fish and meat. It goes particularly well with sushi.

A wine with a denomination-of-origin label

The quality of our txakoli is certified by the Getariako Txakolina denomination of origin, which indicates that Agerre txakoli has been made entirely from the grapes grown in our Getaria vineyards and that it has been produced from start to finish in our facilities.

The Agerre winery

Agerre txakoli is made in the traditional method, based on knowledge passed down from generation to generation to achieve a contemporary wine adapted to the modern palate.

Vineyards

Every one of the vines in the Agerre txakoli vineyards has just the right height and amount of space to grow, which means that our txakoli has its own strong identity among the other wines with the Gerariako Txakolina denomination of origin.

The Agerre estate

The Agerre estate is located on a hill between the Getaria neighbourhoods of San Prudentzio and Askizu. We have been growing txakoli grapes since the 19th century, although in those days the wine we produced was for our own consumption. That tradition continued until the 1980s, when Emilio Ostolaza created the winery and immediately obtained the Getariako Txakolina denomination of origin.
